On 16th December, at Shanghai, the wife of J. FORDYCK MESSER, of a son.

HONGKONG OFFICE: 14. DESVŒUX ROAD CI. LONDON OFFICE: 131, FLEET STREET, E.C.

Hongkong, December 21st, 1904.

ALTHOUGH we do not by any means endorse the statements made by some of the alarmists in North China as to the feeling in the Northern provinces against foreigners, it cannot be doubted for a moment that there is less disposition on the part of the Chinese and their officials to welcome foreign enterprise into the country. The Boxer agitation and the anti-foreign views expressed by many natives in the interior are the fruit of incendiary literature and false reports spread in the tea-shops, but these are not, we believe, in any way countenanced by the Imperial Government or even by the provincial officials. The attention of the Waiwupu having been called to the anti-foreign tracts recently published in the three Northern provinces, a memorial was addressed to the Throne on the subject, and a Rescript soon followed, of which the following translation is given by our Shanghai morning contemporary:—"At Tamin and Shunté in Chihli, Changté in Honan, and Tungao-hsien in Shantung there are societies of bandits reported to be established which gather together men in great numbers and spread false rumours. These societies have for their object the barassing of Christians, and they seek to raise trouble by exciting suspicion. If this is really the case these societies ought to be rooted out completely at once, and the members arrested and dealt with immediately. That the affair may be nipped in the bud, YUAN SHIH-RAI, CHOU FU, and CHEN KWEI-SUNG must therefore give orders at once to the civil and military head.

officials of the various places, directing them to allow no concealment, but to apprehend the offenders by direct and secret methods, and deal with them respectively according to their deserts. Moreover, the lives and i places must be jealously protected; there linst. must be no disturbance whatever, as will be the result if there is any remissness on the part of the officials. We consider this a most important matter." From this it will be gathered that the Peking Government is quite prepared to take the steps necessary to repress any attempt that may be made by agitators and to prevent any fanatic feeling becoming dangerous, for they certainly do not want another occupation of the capital and district by foreign troops, and they recognise that the Powers cannot permit their subjects to be wantonly mas-

But while they are anxious not to afford a fresh pretext for foreign interference, they are also more alive to the inadvisability; from their point of view, of allowing foreigners to obtain a footing in the country after the manner of the Muscovites in building a railway across Chinese territory | The Yungpingfu correspondent of the N. C. | THE WAR. and then usurping administrative functions on the plea of affording the line protection. The Chinese people have also seen the Russian bosts beaten back with great loss by the Japanese armies, and they not unnaturally begin to suspect that the talons of the Bear are not so powerful as they had | throng. He was stretching his head over the been led by appearances to suppose. They are therefore waxing bolder in their demeanour to foreigners, and are freely urging their authorities not to grant any further concessions to strangers for railways. The action of the people of the Two Kwang in | built he was a very fine specimen of humanity asking that the concession to the American Syndicate to build the Hankow-Canton Railway should be cancelled because they had agreed to sell their rights under their like the chance !" agreement to the Belgian Syndicate and the success attending it was one proof of this change of policy. Another has recently been given. An application made by the representative of a French syndicate for permission to construct a railway between Hsian, the capital of Shensi, and Taiyuan-fu, the capital of Shansi, a distance of nearly seven hundred miles, has now, we hear, been refused. The petition was referred by the Waiwupu to the Governors of [31] the two provinces named to report upon, and they replied that, considering the importance of the route through which the proposed line will pass, it would not be politic to allow foreigners to control or work such a railway. Moreover, there are plenty of gentry and merchants in the two provinces quite ready to raise the funds required for the construction of the line without resorting to foreign capitalists at all. The fear of foreign interference is strong in China, and it is not too much to say that it has originated out of the aggressive action of the Russians in Manchuria. As a consequence, we fear, the development of the material resources of China and the extension of her means of internal communication will be delayed no doubt to a considerable extent by this mistrust, inasmuch as while it is true that there is a great deal of unemployed or hoarded capital in China, it will always be shy of investment in enterprises which may and would be at the mercy of the mandarins. Meanwhile, too, there is reason to expect that those enterprising foreigners who have, after much trouble, obtained railway and other concessions in China will find that, from one cause or another, it will be difficult to make substantial progress with such undertakings. At the same time, it is more than likely that any neglect to comply with the conditions of such concessions, or failure to construct a projected railway, will be eagerly reized as pretext for cancelling a concession. Will the British and Chinese

Daily News writes: At a town near to Pakou we fell in with a young Chinese giant, and felt almost sorry we were not relatives of Barnum that we might exploit him. Seated in an inn one day writing, with a curious crowd round me in the usual style, my friend drew my attention to a man who had just joined the others, and I could not believe that he was not mounted on a box or something of that sort. But his feet were on the ground and his head was a long way from the ground. We measured. him, and found him to be six feet nine and ahalf inches, and as he was strongly and sturdily I laughingly suggested to him that he should offer himself to Viceroy Yuan Shih-k'ai, as a candidate for post of personal bodyguard, and his reply in substance was: "Wouldn't I just | indemnity.

The report of this company for the half-year ended 30th June, submitted to the meeting on the 16th Nov. states that gross receipts have amounted to £300,058, against £265,099 for the corresponding half of 1903. In the former figure is included interest on investments to publish the Reuter messages on the day they (£13,125), which in the corresponding period of 1903 was carried direct to the general reserve fund. Working expenses, including £25,712 for maintenance of c-bles, absorb £141,707, against £138,516 for the corresponding period of 1903, leaving a balance of £158,350. From this is deducted £2,923 for income-tax and £12,048 for interest on debenture stock, leaving £143,379 as net profit for the half-year. After adding £41.891 brought forward, there is an available balance of £185,270. Two quarterly dividends of 11 per cent. each have been paid leaving £110,270 to be carried forward further partial renewal of the Hongkong-Foochow cable has been effected, and the cost is considering a scheme for the institution of amounting to £6,273, charged against the general reserve fund. RUSSIANS AT SHANGHAI.

SHANGHAI, 20th December.

The Inotal here has demanded from the Russian Consul the surrender of two of the Askold's crew, who are alleged to have murdered a Chinaman. There has been a good deal of trouble with the interned Russian sailors on shore leave. Lately they have been allowed in the Settlement only in small batches, in charge of an officer. The two men referred to were being pestered by ricsha coolies. One of them, seizing an adze lying on some timber, swung it behind him. It hit an inoffensive Chinese passing by, and fractured his skull. The Russian Consul held an enquiry but not being allowed to try military or naval men, sent the two sailors on board the Askold for trial by Court Martial. There seems to be much feeling in the matter at Shanghai. It is to be hoped, notwithstanding, that the men will not be handed over as requested. Foreign ers must never be tried by Chinese, even though they be Russians 1

BY COURTEST OF THE JAPANESE CONSUL. PORT ARTHUR.

· Tokyo, 19th December.

Admiral Togo reports that while attacking the Russian ships in the outer roadstead on the night of the 14th, one Japanese torpedo-boat was disabled and abandoned, while the survivors were saved. Another torpedo-boat was temporarily disabled, but conveyed back. No serious damage was done to the rest of craft. The total casualties were ten killed and fourteen wounded. The Sevastopol's anchorage being close to the shore, it is difficult to ascertain her damage, but several torpedues were distinctly observed to hit and explode. On the night of the 15th the torpedo-boat flotillas renewed their attacks on the Sevasto pol, Otvasny and some destroyers. They managed to approach close to the enemy's ships and successively discharged torpedoes, several of which were distinctly observed to hit and explode. In spite of the enemy's hot fire our craft all returned safely, total casualties being three killed and three wounded. Our observation station in the was aground with masts broken.

Admiral Togo on the 18th reporting on he actual state of the Russian ships which sunk in the inner harbour, says it is substantially the same as previously appounced.

He concludes that they are no longer fit for action. Regarding the Sevastopol, although there is reason to believe that she was incapacitated for navigation, yet positive evidence is still unobtainable. Six Russian destroyers are still remaining.

The Port Arthur army reports that detachment at 2.15 p.m. on the 18th caused a great explosion at the breastwork of the north fort of Tumkikwanshan, thereupon made an assault, followed by fierce fighting with grenades. The enemy offered the stoutest resistance. At 7 p.m. General counterscarp, then made a great assault and captured the above fort at 11.50 p.m. We immediately constructed defensive works and rendered our possession firm by the field-guns, two machine-guns and a great quantity of ammunition, and we also found about forty Russian corpses within that fort. Our casualties are not yet ascertained but are not believed to be heavy.

ANOTHER RUSSIAN BALTIC FLEET

LONDON, 18th December. The Russian Admiralty, apparently in deference to popular agitation, has commenced preparations to fit out a third Baltic squadron, consisting of four battleships and one cruiser; all vessels of comparatively small tonnage and nearly obsolete.

THE SOLE SURVIVING IRONCLAD.

Toxyo, 14th December. The Sebastopol continues to moor off Mantoushan, but appears to seek shelter at night within the anchorage with the destroyers. Of these only eight are to be seen.

The effect of the indirect bombardment of the Sebastopol is unknown, owing to the thick weather. Five torpedo attacks were made on her in Monday morning, but the result has not been yet ascertained. Three Japanese bluejackets were wounded.

WEIHAIWEI, 15th December. Heavy firing was heard here last night. It is surmised that the Sebastopol, when attempting to escape, was captured or sunk.

A MESSENGER FROM PORT ARTHUI

CHEFOO. 16th December. messenger from General Stüssel, accompanied by six refugees, arrived this afternoon from Port Arthur in a ship's boat rigged with a sail. They encountered a bitter wind and cold.

The messenger delivered voluminous des- in these goods. patches to the Bussian Consul here, which, the Consul states, contain details of the operations since the departure of the destroyer Ratsto-

In an interview the Consul stated that the reports contain evidence of exaggeration in the Japanese official reports. The Russians are still holding all northern forts. The tone of the Company. He had no hesitation in accepting despatches shows that General Stössel does not anticipate failure. The Consul declined for the present to answe Russian ships in Port Arthur.

THE SITUATION IN MANCHURIA

Tokyo, 16th December. Some military sections at Tokyo believe that General Kuropatkin has not yet abandoned his plan for the relief of Port Arthur, because the main girdle of forts is still in Russian hands, and that the recent lull on the Shaho is due to the Russians awaiting the possession of a superiority in numbers.

The Russian casualties two months ago were about 70,000, and these it is now believed have been replaced. When the rivers are frozen and the roads are hard, the communications will naturally be expedited. The supposition that winter implies a suspension of hostilities is scarcely justified. The upshot of the matter seems to be that the Russians will be the next to assume the offensive. Everything suggests that it is wisdom for the Japanese to play a waiting

The limit of the Russian right wing hitherto has been Tingchiapao on the left bank of the Hunho, reconnoiting parties being occasionally detailed; but the line is now extended in the Mamachieh direction on the right bank of the Hunho, the Russians availing themselves of the freezing of the swamps and rivers to distribute their new arrivals.

HEAVY LOSS TO HARMSTON'S CIRCUS.

The Manila Cablenews reports that four lionesses belonging to Harmston's Circus have died. The animals were transferred from the s.s. Tean to a lighter in their cages, and were then apparently, in perfect condition. A few minutes after having started for the custom house wharf, a circus employé noticed that one of the four lionesses seemed to be in distress and called Mr. Lindo, the trainer. Almost immediately afterwards the remaining three were seized with the same symptoms and lay writhing and struggling on the floor of the cage. Ten minutes later the whole four lay dead. Immediately a rush was made for the cage containing the tiger, and he was found to of the Japanese battleship Yashima, it is now be in a very similar condition. Mr. Lindo, in tuitively divining that the cause must be want of air, opened the cage, and the tiger speedily recovered, showing that the cause had been rightly guessed. The dead animals are not ontirely valueless as their skins are worth $125 gold apiece, which is small however

DES VŒUX ROAD FIRE INQUIRY,

At the Magistracy yesterday afternoon Mr.

H. H. J. Gompertz opened an inquiry into the cause of the fire which occurred in a godown at No. 325, Des Voux, Road West, on the 9th instant. Mr. Hursthouse (of Messrs Dennys and Bowley's office) appeared on behalf of four Insurance Companies, also on behalf of the Police. Mr. Hastings represented Mr. Ho Li Cho, who is the owner of certain goods in the godown. Mr. Hursthouse said, that as usual in these inquiries, some of the witnesses had turn. ed out to be hostile, and had to be subpænsed for examination. The godown in question is a Samejima proceeded to the caponiere of the small one extending about 25 or 30 feet back from the road, and is 10 or 12 feet in width. It consists of only the ground floor of the premises. The first floor is inhabited by various persons, and their entrance to their flat did not necessitate them going morning of the 19th. We coptured five through the godown. When the fire occurred a number of people were sleeping on the first floor. The story goes that some of them were awakened by a noise which sounded as if somebody were knocking against the floor on which they were sleeping. One of the party got up and opened a trap door showing into the godown. Looking through this he saw smoke and flames below. He alarmed the others, and the whole of the people on the floor easily made their escape. The fire was confined to the back part of the shop, where a portion of a window and a few cases of goods were burnt. There were no signs of the flames having burnt the ceiling. In the godown were planks running longitudinally along the floor about two feet apart. The cases of goods were ranged on these planks, so that there was a space of about four inches between the cases and the floor. Various goods were contained in the cases. which were mostly packed with a loose and inflammable kind of shavings. Under one of these cases the Police found a small kerosene lamp in a very peculiar position. It was about a yard under the case; the burner and the the P. & O. S. Tcheran; she now belongs to the reflector were off, and the wick was partially hanging out. Another peculiar circumstance in connection with it was, that although the case under which the lamp was found was slightly burnt, there was no trace of fire near the place where the lamp was picked up. A bottle smelling strongly of kerosene was found under the staircase to the first floor. A large pole was also found reaching up to the rafters of the ceiling. With regard to the noise heard by inhabitants of the first floor, I submit that that noise may have been made by the pole in question. The goods in the godown belong to a man named Ho Li-Cho, and so far as can be ascertained, the insurances are effected in the name of the Chinese Engineering and Mining Company. The total amount of insurance is $35,000, and that appears, judging from the list of goods taken from the books the Police have seen, to be just about double the value of the. stocks supposed to be in the godown at the time of the fire. There are very serious discrepancies according to the list of goods supposed to be in the godown. A Mr. Murray and Mr. Ho Li Cho are concerned to a certain extent The first witness was William Davis, Manager of the Commercial Union Insurance Company, who said that part of the goods were insured in his Company to the extent of $5,000, in the name of the Chinese Engineering and Mining any insurance from this Company, but would have made inquiries before accepting from any question in reference to the disabling of the a private individual. The application came through the Un On Insurance Company. Edward Henry Murray said: I am a coal and general commission agent. I came out from America with the Chinese Engineering Company about two years ago, and remained with them until they closed up. When Mr. Hawley, managing director of the Company, left here, an arrangement was made whereby Mr. Ho Li Cho was to take over the goods of the Company, valued roughly at $6,500 Mex. He got control of the goods on August 5th. The balance due then was $43,000, which was rayable in three separate instalments of equal amounts in three, six, and nine months. The first payment has been duly met. Subject to the bills being met on maturity, the stock is the property of Ho Li Cho. Since the fifth of August, when I effected a sale of any of the goods, I gave a delivery order on the godown company. As far as I know, Ho Li Cho is the lessee of the godown at Des Vœux Road. I have the original contracts and copies of bills handed over by the Company to He Li Cho. On making up a list of goods in the godown about two months after the settlement, I found it did not tally with the amount of money the Company claimed from Ho Li Cho. I have no books belonging to the Chinese-American Company by which I can work the matter out. According to the papers in my possession there should be considerably more stock—than—there is. I have never checked the stock in the Des Voeux Road godown. I could not say whether a case of singlets was missing from the godown. There was some jewellery in my office at the time of the fire, consisting of chains, watches, rings, etc. I do not know whether it was brought from the Des Vœux Road godown. I could not say whether any of the stock was in an unsaleable Hearing continues,

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

18th December.

KWANGSI REBELS. It is reported that the armies under the command of Generals Wong Wan Ko, Ho Yao Shan, and U Shing Kak have had a big fight The teams were as follows:--with the rebels in Kwangsi and gained a victory. The rebels, and their chief Wong | Hannay, Pearce, A. O. Lang and G. B. Son Wo, were surrounded by the mandarin Bateman, three-quarters; J. Clark and soldiers in Sam Tun for two days and two nights. The rebel chief Wong at last succeeded in effecting his escape, but another rebel chief, Luk A Fat, has been captured. The rebels were armed with quick-firing rifles supplied to them from Singapore: Upon these facts being reported to the Throne by the Vicercy Shum the Empress Dowager expressed satisfaction, and sent some presents consisting of valuable jewellery to Their Excellencies the Viceroy Shum, and Li, the Governor of Kwangsi. Meantime she ordered that the rebels who had surrendered themselves should major points. Hannay shortly afterwards be leniently treated and not punished with cruelty.

H.E. SHUM,

His Excellency Shum Chou Hun arrived at a Wachow on the 13th inst. to deal with some important official business. Nearly all the time he was detained in Kwai Chow. He is now living in the yamen of the Salt Commissioner in Wuchow.

THE INDEMNITY.

Lately the Viceroy Shum has sent a memorial to the Throne referring to Canton's contribution to the war indemnity. The yearly amount was four hundred and eighty thousand taels taken from the Wai Shing, a lottery monopoly; it was to be paid quarterly. It has been regularly paid since the 22nd year of Kwangsu, but of late, on account of the abolition of the military examination, and or alteration in civil literary examination, there has been some difficulty in raising the amount. This year the indemnity for the last two quarters. amounting to ninety six thousand taels, has not been paid. His Excellency requests that the Board of Revenue be ordered to pay this amount so as not to cause any disappointment. EVADING LIKIN SQUEEZES.

For the last few years it has been customary for Chinese steam launch owners to pay foreigners a small sum for acting as figure heads, to fly foreign flags on their launches, to avoid the official squeezes, and to gain facility in passing the likin barrier. Of late it has come to the knowledge of the foreign Consuls, and they communicated this fact to the Chinese officials. The latter communicated with the I.M. Commissioner, and the Commissioner has issued an order to prohibit all steam launches and boats not owned by foreigners from flying foreign flags under severe penalty, as it is against the law of

BANDITTI.

As a sequel to the story of robbery by local banditti in Sui Tung in the prefecture of Kochow-us reported in my letter of the 12th November last-I have gathered further news. After the robbery all shops in that market town were closed, and it was almost deserted for about a month. When the Magistrate of Tin Pak went with soldiers, and advised the shopkeepers there to re-open their shops and resume business transactions, they did so, but in fear and trembling. Every day they heard of rumours of robberies in the neighbouring villages. Some of the traders had removed their families to Canton, Hongkong, or Macao. One day being the day of a fair, someone cried out "Robbery." The traders and buyers in the · fair ran, throwing down their money and wares in the street, some falling down, trampling upon each other, and breaking their heads. The traders closed their shops again, and the vagabonds, who raised the false alarm seized this opportunity to pick up a large quantity of goods and money. As last time, one third of the robbers came from other districts and the rest were vagabonds of the place, who availed themselves of the opportunity to rob.

SQUEEZING PRISONERS. Last year, when the ex-magistrate Pui King Fuk was in Nam Hoi, he permitted his runners, police, and underlings to squeeze and ill-treat the prisoners in the house of detention. After his time, another magistrate took up the appoint ment and introduced some reforms to better the conditions of the prisoners; but of late this evil practice has begun to grow again. In case the relatives and friends of the prisoner bribe the keepers of the gaol, the prisoner is not ill-treated, but has every convenience. no bribe be paid he is put to cangue, and kept on the point of starvation. The bribe to be paid varies from twenty dollars to three hundred dollars according to the circumstances of the prisoner. A slight or pretended illness is reported as a serious illness, so as to avoid trial-If no bribe be paid, the prisoner, however sick, may lie almost half dead and the keeper takes no notice of him

RUGBY FOOTBALL

H.K.F.C. v. H.M.S. "GLORY" AND "ALBION." This match was played on the Club Ground, at Happy, Valley, yesterday afternoon. It resulted in an easy win for the Club, who were much heavier and faster than their opponents.

H.K.F.C .- J. F. Bourchier, full-back; Lieut. Soper, halves; E. R. Hallif, x, Lieut. Hibbert, Lieut, Graham, Lieut, Black, Lieut, Rankin, Lieut, Duncan and H. F. Chard, forwards.

-The Naval Team-Warren, full-back; Seymour, Blackwood, Fosseta and Black, threequarters; Child and Millineux, halves; Harrison, Bartlett. Maxwell. Henderson, Smith, Kenworthy and Brune, forwards.

Chard, the captuin of the Club team, kicked off, and loose play followed for some time. From a good pass by Soper, Bateman scored a pretty try, and Hallifax added the scored a try, the kick for goal, however, being run down. A series of scrimmages near the naval end terminated in the Club forwards heeling out the ball. Pearce secured it and ran in for another try; this he converted himself. Clark scored two tries in succession, Court rose he would adjourn the Criminal and Pearce made no mistake about doing the Sessions till Thursday, so as to allow needful on each occasion. Lang registered the time to prepare the defence. next addition, Pearce again shooting between the posts. Baleman scored a try and Pearce. converted. When the whistle announced halftime the score stood as follows:--

The Navy men made a much better stand in the second half, but their game at best was on the defensive. Hannay scored a try, which was not converted. Lang added still another, Pearce converting. The Navy men then made a very good combined run, but failed to carry the ball quite to their desired destination. At this stage of the game Clark received a nasty knock and play was suspended while he pulled himself together On signifying his intention to resume play on-lookers applauded, but his comrades persuaded him to retire. Bateman, shortly before the close of the game, scored a try, and Pearce again converted.

Result-Club, 8 goals 2 tries (46 points); Navy, C.

THE "NIGRETIA" CASE.

H. B. M.'s Police Court on the 14th inst. is of People then came over from another lighter wide interest to the shipping community at the present time. The point at issue was extremely simple. On arriving in Shanghai last week Captain Harrison of the str. Nigretia informed his ship's company that the destination of the first prisoner was taken from the water, minus vessel with its cargo of cases of kerosene oil was to be Vladivostock. Thereupon the entirewhite crew, including the deck and engine-room officers, declared that they would proceed no further. They had signed on the articles on the 16th December, 1903, nearly two months before the outbreak of the war, and they had not contemplated the risk of entering the port of a belligerent power. They conceded that harm ! there was no actual blockade of Vladivostock yet proclaimed, but protested that the entrance | continued. to the harbour was so dangerous from floating and uncharted mines that they were justified in refusing to risk their lives in attempting to enter it. Other objections were raised but only incidentally, and it was not seriously contended that the Nigretia was carrying cargo other than that which appeared in her papers, or that this constituted contraband.

Shanghai case differed materially from that decided by Capt. L. Barnes-Lawrence (Marine Magistrate at Hongkong) just a month ago. Captain Lawrence excused the crew of the steamer Salfordia from obeying the order of her master to proceed to Vladivostock, but one of the reasons he gave for his decision was that "the crew were not informed when they signed the articles that the vessel was carrying contraband." He mentioned also that "should Vladivostock be again bombarded, and this vessel be within its harbour at the time, danger to life may reasonably be apprehended," but although a similar contention was put forward on behalf of the defendants at Shanghai it failed to carry weight with Mr. Douglas.

Sympathy will undoubtedly go out to the men who have been ordered to take exceptional risks for which they did not bargain. They are brave they have wives and families to think of too. From their attitude in Court we gathered that several will prefer imprisonment to proceeding on so dangerous a voyage. Though the decision may be strictly defended in law, it is distinctly against the equity of the case, for it has been unhappily proved by experience that the perils from mines in the neighbourhood of Vladivostock have not been exaggerated -N.-C. ARMED ROBBERY.

Three Chinamen, Lau Tam, Yeung Lam Tse, and Yeung San, were charged with (1) assault with intent to rob, and (2) wounding Chan Tak, Half-time-Club, 6 goals, 1 try (33 points); Leung Sai and Lo Tai with intent to do grievous bodily harm.

The prisoners pleaded not guilty. The following jury was empanelled: -- Messrs. H. W. Fraser, G. Rapp, G. M. Smith, W. Schmidt, E. Heermann, R. H. King and F. A. Wendt.

The case against the prisoners, briefly, was that on the night of the 27th November these men, along with others, while armed with knives, made an attack on three lighters moored alongside the Naval Yard Extension works at Mutaukok. Chan Tak, a lighterman, was sleeping in the cabin of his boat when he was disturbed by the door being opened. He then saw a man, holding a knife in his hand, standing at the entrance. He asked "Who are you?" whereupon the robber-afterwards identified as the first prisoner-entered the room and stood over him, ordering silence at the same time: Chan Tak attempted to jump up, and the robber, slashing at random, cut his leg. The lighterman managed to grasp The decision given by Mr. Douglas in the knife and shouted loudly "Save life! and there was a scuffle. A man named Lo Ta seized the man's queue as he jumped overboard. DISORDERLY CONDUCT. Two Europeans, Gibson and Durham, who conducted themselves in a disorderly manner at the Land We Live In Hotel on the 19th inst., were fined $10 and $5 respectively.

BEFORE MR. F. A. HAZELAND (SECOND POLICE MAGISTRATE).

Two Chinese storekeepers in the Central District were charged with having false scales in their possession. A fine of $200 was inflicted in the first instance, and the second defendant was muleted in the sum of $50.

A shroff engaged by the Mutual Stores, who has long been suspected of pilfering the firm's money, was caught in the act yesterday by Sergeant Sullivan. The sergeant sent in two men, one of whom paid in a $10 note, and the other $5. Each of the notes were marked. shroff placed them to his own credit. He was leaving the store in the afternoon, when the money was found on his person. He was charged with the offence, found guilty, and has now entered on a term of two months' hard labour. A COLLISION ENQUIRY. An enquiry was held into the circumstances connected with a collision between the launches Hapag (Hamburg-America Line launch) and E Wo (owned by Mr. Chan Tsun Kwai), in the waters of the Colony on the 11th inst. Mr. P. W. Goldring watched the case on behalf of the E Wo. and Mr. Russel on behalf of the

The master of the Hapog said he was about to proceed to Queen's Statue Wharf. He had been anchored off Yaumati wharf. After getting his anchor aweigh he saw two Chinese junks anchored on his starboard bow; as the E Wo was behind these he could not see her. He was steaming at a very slow rate of speed. When abreast the junks one of the crew shouted out that there was a junk on his starboard bow. He then saw the E Wo, about eighty yards off, and went full speed astern, blowing three blasts on his whistle to indicate that he was giving way to the E Wo. The E We gave a long blast. She ported her helm at first, altering her course about a point, and then resumed her original course, striking the Hopag abreast the boiler on the starboard side. The Hapag had sternway on her. The master of the E Wo said he blew a short blast meaning that he was porting his helm, and the Hapag blew a short blast in reply When the launches were about fifty feet apart the Hapag blew two blasts and starboarded across his bows. She was going full speed ahead. When he saw this he went full speed astern, but too late to avoid collision.

After going very fully into the matter, Mr. Taylor said he found the story of the E Wo entirely improbable; that of the Hapag was not altogether satisfactory. He considered that there was negligent navigation on the part of Cheung Kam, master of the E Wo, and suspended his certificate for a month.

JAPAN AS CHINA'S PROTECTOR.

A pro-Russian paper in the North publishes the following:-These islanders are indeed wonderful people, and understand thoroughly how to work themselves in. They make friends with the Chinese and remind them of their kinship. Promises are made without much hesitation, to the effect that they will restore China in Mauchuria and Liaotung, when Russia has been driven back; the exact terms to be settled later on. China, proud of such glorious, victorious, and generous relatives, feels bound to reciprocate. She engages them to teach her army, and buys arms of all descriptions, to be paid for by instalments. Japan tells her: "we do all for you; do not let aliens build your railway; cancel, as far as possible, your railway contracts, they are dangerous; we will supply you with all necessary materials, and you need not pay at once; simply leave the control to us, and we will pay ourselves back out of the large revenue which we will create; and, when all that you owe is paid, we will hand the whole thing over to you in splendid condition. What we do in one sphere we will do in all; and you shall no longer be in the hands of the greedy aliens; but under the care of your kinsmen. We understand that | ciency of supplies, arms and ammunition, or your treasury is empty, because you have to pay | provisions. Up to April the Japanese had the the heavy indemnity to the foreigners, but we want to assist you and help you to get rid of them. We will build all your steamers on the same terms; and, in order to see that all works well, we will take charge of your fiscal system. So don't listen to any foreign proposals, they only want power and profit." There are, however, many instances in life where relatives have shown themselves more dangerous than strangers. THE WEIHAIWEI GOLD MINING! CO., LD.

The crisis in the affairs of the Weihaiwei

Gold Mining Company is tided over as the result of an informal meeting of shareholders held Dec. 15th It was a largely attended meeting and on the whole a cheerful one. The general feeling, as indicated by the applause following a remark, was that the International Banking Corporation had been rather hasty in driving the company into an awkward corner, but the situation was one to be saved, and the only question was how it should be done. The directors came in for some criticism. At the very outset of the meeting a shareholder expressed the opinion that the circular convening the meeting might have been worded in less alarming terms, and thus the sending of the share quotations down practically to zero avoided. Another point raised was that the Board had not taken the opportunity a few weeks since, when the shares were at a premium to issue the balance of ordinary shares. To this the chairman (Mr. Marous Wolff) could only reply that an error of judgment had been  ${f committed}.$

The Chairman in an introductory statement explained how the crisis had arisen, through the Bank refusing to allow the overdraft to be increased beyond the present amount of $38,737.68, or to continue it unless satisfactory security, personal or otherwise, were deposited against it. They had, however, agreed to accept as part payment the $10 call on the 3,777 preference shares recently called up, releasing their lien on the property. But in the meantime the company was without money to meet immediate liabilities, and unless the meeting adopted some extraordinary measures, it was impossible to carry on.

Mr. J. R. Duff, the expert adviser of the company, had written a letter based on his examination after the first crushings, and this was read. It explained that many circumstances made it impossible to judge the probable outturn of gold by the results of the first crushing, and expressed the confident opinion that the mine would be paying expenses and showing a profit within three months. His lowest estimate of the average outturn to be expected after that time was 5 dwts. per ton, and expenses should be covered by 2 dwts. leaving a profit of 3 dwts. Taking 80 tons a day with only 20 stamps and 300 days in the year this represented a possible profit of $72,000 gold.

Mr. F. E. Taylor, as a shareholder with considcrable interests, who had looked into the situation carefully, made a decidedly optimistic speech. There was an animated discussion as to how the money requir d should be obtained, many shareholders wishing to have a uniform cal made in order to give all an equal benefit and interest. This, however, the Chairman explained, was impossible as time was too limited. Debentures redeemable six months at twelve per cent. per annum were subscribed in the room with great eagerness, and the amount required to save the situation was rapidly more than subscribed-N.-C. #### ADMIRALALEXEIEFF'SRELATIONS WITH KUROPATKIN.

The Petit Parisien publishes an interview which its correspondent at St. Petersburg has had with Admiral Alexeieff.

The ex-Viceroy declared that all the reports of serious dissensions between himself and General Kuropatkin were lies and calumnies. General Kuropatkin, he said, was almost completely independent, and was in no way under his direct orders. He had never interfered with the General's plans, and there had never been any unfriendliness between them. Even if divergencies of opinion had arisen, they had been very far from a constant antagonism. In regard to the order of the day in which General Kuropatkin announced his intention of taking the offensive, Admiral Alexeioff said this order scarce'y approved of it. He repudiated the notion that he bad wished for the present war, and declared that it had been prepared by Japan. He himself had done all he could to avoid it. As for the reports which represented him as having advised a forward movement at any cost in order to save Port Arthur, they were all incorrect. He had carefully refrained from giving General Kuropatkin any advice at all on matters of strategy or tactics. There was no truth, moreover, in the reports of disagreement was drawn up by the General. He himself had between himself and Admiral Skrydloff. Admiral Alexeieff expressed admiration of the Japanese as sailors. He did not think that China was disposed to abandon her neutrality. She was, moreover, closely watched. If, however the Jananese were eventually victorious, he thought they would succeed in arming and organising a sufficiently large part of China to make Europe say good-bye to her influence in the Far East. The present war, he declared, was the beginning of a war of races and of

They not completely fortified. Nor had they a suffi- Boilers. advantage : they might have taken Port Arthur and beaten the weak Russian forces on the Yalu. The Russian resistance paralysed them. In April the Russians had 10 , 00 men in the field, now they had 400,000, thanks to the efforts of Prince Khilkoff, the Minister of Ways and Communications.

Admiral Alexeieff admitted that before the outbreak of hostilities he had ceased to believe in the possibility of peace being maintained, and he had wished to recall the Variag and the Korietz. He had given orders to the squadron at Port Arthur to be on its guard, and, if the Japanese surprised it, they only did so by using the Russian signals. The order given to the squadron to sail out from Port Arthur on August 10th did not emanate from him, but was the result of an understanding between General Stoessel and Admiral Withoeft. He hoped that Port Arthur would be able to hold 1sT FLOOR, WATKINS' BUILDINGS. out until the arrival of the Baltic Fleet, but be did not wish to make any further statement on the subject.

JAPANESE CREDIT.

The following notes are extracted from the City Article in the Times of November 17th. The great success of the second issue of the Japanese Six per Cent. loan, which has been subscribed nearly fourteen times over, is, no doubt, due partly to its "cheapness." Cheap it certainly is, that is to say, owing to the war the subscribers who get allotments will have had the opportunity of obtaining a Japanese Government security at a price materially below what they would have to pay in time of peace.
War is the wisely courageous investor's chance.
In our own case capitalists everywhere had during the Boer war and for some time afterwards opportunities, of which they availed themselves freely, of securing "short" British Government securities at prices which yielded the buyer 4 to 5 per cent. during their currency. It need hardly be said that this does not represent the credit of the British Government over a long period and in normal times. Japan is now paying 3½ to 4 per cent. more for the temporary accommodation she needs during the war than she would, probably, have vants' Quarters, Bathrooms, Hot and Cold to pay for a loan in time of peace. Most people have hitherto underrated the financial resources of Japan as much as they underrated her mili-tary power, and even the magnitude of her population, which is larger than our own. The mistake was natural; every "new" country (and Japan is new as a country which has adopted some Western ideas) has to "make its proofs" when it appears before the world as a Power in the diplomatic sense. The naval and military proofs have been already given, to this extent that, no matter what the final result of the war may be, no Government will ever again venture to treat Japan as the Russian Government treated her before February this year. Japan's position in the world has been changed in much the same way as that of Prussia was changed in the eyes of Austria and every other country in 1741 by the battle of Mollwitz. We venture to think that a more intimate acquaintance with the resources of Japan will materially modify the conceptions of its economic position which have hitherto prevailed. Japan hus, so far, stood the strain resulting from the war far better than even those who believed that her unused resources were very large expected. As in all countries in. habited by an industrious and enterprising people, the state of business in Japan has varied a good deal from time to time. Five years ago Japan was troubled by an economic crisis. Tha crisis has long ago passed away, but it is worth while to glance at the figures of the Bank of Japan on December 30, 1899, and compare them with those of September 17, 1904; the contrast, bearing in mind that the latter figures are those of a state of war, is curious and impressive. Sept. 17, 190+. Dec. 30, 1899 General deposits ... ... 17,000,000 5,500,000 Government deposits ... 26:00,000 71,000,000 Mercantile notes discounted 32,000,000 108,000,000 General loans ... 42,500,000 70,500,000 Loans to Gover ment ... 65,500,000 22,000,000 The reduction of Government deposits and increase in loans to the Government are, of course due to the war. The other figures, as a whole, show a thoroughly healthy situation, liabilities, other than those due to the war, being within a moderate compass, while resources are increased.

RUSSIAN ARMY TRANSPORT.

The Odesski Listok publishes the following with regard to the transport of the 8th Army Corps from the Odessa military district to Manchuria :- the transport began on October. 1 with the 12th Battalion of Sappers. The average time allowed for the journey to Kharbin, including days of rest and sojourn on the way. is about 37 days. Thus the 56th Regiment of Infantry, which left Tiraspol on October 10, is expected to arrive at Kharbin on November 16: The distance between these two places is 8,400 versts, or about 5,600 miles, so that the average rate of progress reckoned on is about 6:3 miles an hour. This is including stoppages of various kinds, and how many days is allowed for them is not stated, but it is evident that even if as much as 18 days of the 37 are allowed for stoppages the speed of the trains cannot exceed 125 miles an hour. It is calculated that the 14th Division of Infantry will have all arrived at the theatre of war between November 13 and 16, the 15th Division between November 17 and 20, and the artillery and train belonging to the 8th Army Corps by the end of November at the latest. The Russian baggage train is much more considerable than that of other European armies, and 28 railway trains are allowed for the baggage train of a division of infantrynamely, four for that of the staff and auxiliary service and six for that of each regiment. The number of military railway trains despatched daily is seven, but on the portion of the railway round Lake Bailkal only five of these can pass; the other two have to be taken across Lake Baikal. This can easily be done when the water is free from ice, or when the ice is not too thick for the icebreakers to get through, which generally they cannot do for only a short time in the year, between the end of November and the middle of December.

TRADE MARKS IN CHINA.

MANCHESTER OPINIONS The Trade and Merchandise Marks Committee of the Munchester Chamber of Commerce reported that they had passed the following resolution: "This committee, having carefully considered the translation of the Chinese Provisional Regulations appertaining to the registration of trade marks in China, sent by the Sha ghai Chamber of Commerce to the Manchester Chamber, cannot but express its opinion that many of these regulations will prove detrimental to the users of trade marks in China. That in view of the fact that these regulations are to be subject to revision when a code governing trade marks has been compiled, at some future date, this committee would impress upon the board of directors "the advisability of having the fundamental principles, at least, of such code clearly set forth at the outset, or much time will be wasted, and friction and litigation engendered, by the Chinese Government proceeding to registration under these provisional regulations in their present form. That, in view of the great preponderance of trade marks used for the textile classes, over those of all other trades, it is important that traders should have before them the scheme of classification of trade articles proposed to be adopted by the Chinese Government. It is not less important that it should be clearly stated that the Administration will first call in, and deal with, all marks which have hitherto been used in all trades in China, and that the length of time such marks-have been used in that country shall be stated and considered; and only until such marks have been dealt with by the Chinese Administration should applications for new marks be proceeded with. In the provisional regulations now issued precedence is properly proposed to be given, under treaty agreements, to marks which have been the subject of registration in non-Chinese countries. While this is a most useful provision, the attention of the board is called to the fact that there is in the B list of the cotton classes in the British Register of Trade Marks a large and most valuable class of old marks in use prior to the passing of the British Patents and Trade Marks Act of the 13th August. 1875, which marks have secured a quasiregistration in the British list, and this committee desires that a corresponding treatment of such marks should be recommended to the consideration of the Chinese Administration. Apparently the Board of Commerce will be the controlling authority for the administration, under the code and regulations, but as it is provided that the Custom Houses at Shanghai and Tientsin will be created branch offices of registry, this committee infers that, as most of the goods bearing trade marks will be of non-Chinese origin, the control of such trade marks would be in the hands of the Department of Maritime Customs, under which department the goods will come at the port of entry.

TRADE THERAPION MARK This successful and highly popular remedy, used in the Continental Hospitals by Ricord, Rostan, Johert, Velpeau and others, combines all the desiderata to be sought in a medicine of the kind, and surpasses everything hitherto abort time, often a few days only; removes all discharges from the urinary organs, effectually superseding injections, the use of which does irreparable harm by laying the foundation of stricture and other serious diseases. In dysentery, piles, irritation of the lower bowel, cough, bronchitis, asthma, and some of the more trying complaints of this kind, it will be found astonishingly efficacious, affording prompt telief where other well-tried remedies have been powerless.

THERAPION No. 2 purity of the blood, scurvy, pimples, spots, blotches, pains and swellings of the joints, secondary symptoms, gout, rheumatism, and all diseases for which it has been too much a fashion and an diseases for which it has been too fired a passion to employ mercury, sarsaparilla, &c., to the destruction of sufferers' teeth and ruin of health. This preparation purifies the wholesystem through the blood, and thoroughly eliminates every poisonous matter from the body.

THERAPION NO. 3 pervous exhaustion, impaired vitality, sleeplessness, and all the distressing consequences of early error, excess, residence in hot, unhealthy climates, &c: It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigor to the debilitated.

THE RAPION is sold by the principal Chemists and Merchants throughout the world. Price in England 2/9 &c.
